The award-winning HydraFacial system merges invigorating spa therapies with advanced medical technology, offering personalized skin solutions. It is the only device that uses patented Vortex-Fusion® technology to cleanse, extract, and hydrate. HydraFacial boosters allow patients to tailor their treatment with reputable super serums to address specific skin concerns.

"We're thrilled to expand our portfolio of customized treatment solutions through our partnership with Epicutis," said Clint Carnell, Chief Executive Officer of The HydraFacial Company. "This booster is a first-of-its-kind and will allow us to offer HydraFacial customers the latest formulation advancements to help target an often overlooked area of the skin."

Epicutis' Neck & Décolleté Booster was designed for consumers seeking to visibly revitalize the neckline and achieve smoother looking skin. The Neck & Décolleté Booster is clinically proven to reduce the wrinkled appearance of the face and neck, combat the appearance of fine
